ACHILLEA: Sun loving, totally drought tolerant plants which will grow in most soil conditions even almost pure sand. Great for ground cover if allowed or required.
A.m. 'Credo' Tall strong stems carry very large domed heads of clear yellow flowers which age to cream. July to August. 1.2m	€8.00
A m. 'Peggy Sue' Flat clusters of apricot-orange flowers are produced from July to September. 60cm	€8.00
A.m. 'Pink Grapefruit' One of the Tutti Frutti series of Achillea bred for their compact growth and vigour. It has large, slightly domed heads that open to a lovely deep rose pink, then fade to a pale creamy rose. Full sun and well drained soil. June to September. 65cm	€8.00
A. m. 'Pomegranate' A Blooms of Bressingham introduction and another excellent red variety with rich velvety red flowers. Quite compact, sturdy and with a full habit. Long flowering from June onwards, especially if regularly deadheaded.	€8.00
A m 'Terracotta' Terracotta flowers that fade to soft yellow. It is long flowering and drought tolerant. Has a good upright habit. Flowers June to September if deadheaded regularly. 90cm	€8.00
A m 'Wesersandstein' Long succession of deep salmon pink flowers from June to August and later if deadheaded regularly. 50cm	€8.00
ACTAEA: Formerly known as 'Cimicifuga' this family of plants gives us some of the best and most striking garden perennials. Blooming late in the season , August onwards, they produce strong vertical spikes of bottlebrush-like flowers and prefer humus rich, moisture retentive soil in part shade.
A. japonica 'Cheju-Do' A prolific flowerer. In early spring the foliage often emerges with a purple hue before turning green. In late summer a single mature plant can produce 12 to 15 graceful white spikes of flowers from July to August. 1.2m	€9.00
A. s. 'James Compton' The darkest, almost black, foliage of all and tall at 200cm. The flowers are creamy-white. Quite outstanding.	€12.00
A. 'Chocoholic' This is a fairly new variety with extremely dark purple, almost black feathery foliage, which looks attractive from spring onwards. Spikes of mauvish-pink fragrant flowers are	€10.00

produced in late summer. A shorter variety more suited to a smaller garden. Any reasonable soil, not too dry, in sun or part shade. Foliage keeps the colour better in more sun. Attractive to butterflies. 80cm
A. 'Dark Chocoholic' Very similar to A Chocoholic except it has darker foliage. 80cm	€12.00
A. 'Queen of Sheba' Introduced in 2012 by Piet Oudulf, this variety of Actaea has very dark foliage and a very upright habit. The flowers which are white hang down in clusters. 1.2m	€14.00
AGAPANTHUS; Flowering from July to September. Deciduous Agapanthus species come from colder regions and are generally hardier. They are drought tolerant and good coastal plants, coping well with wind and salt. They need good drainage, full sun and plenty of water during the growing season. As happy in a pot as in the garden, however pot culture requires that you give them a good quality John Innes No 3 mixture, and plenty of water during the growing season. Feed well with the likes of Osmocote pellets.
A. 'Moonlight Star' Small pale blue heads with a distinct stripe. 70cm	€15.00
A. inapertus 'Midnight Cascade' Jet black buds open into deep purple flowers from July to September. The flowers are pendulous and funnel shaped. Prefers well drained soil in sun. 70cm	€15.00 masses of 3cm wide pink flowers with a darker eye. It does not need staking even though it will reach 2m high. Flowering from July to September it prefers a sunny spot and well drained soil.

AMICIA zygozeris A very handsome and unusual woody based plant with heart shaped leaves and lilac and yellow pea like flowers in summer and often into autumn. We saw this first in Helen Dillon's garden where it was magnificent. Grow in well drained soil in full sun. 2m	€12.00
AMSONIA: Easy and adaptable with dainty blue flowers and brilliant autumn colour, this is another family of plants that deserves better recognition in the garden. They are happy in either full sun or part shade.
A. 'Blue Ice' Not as tall as others, it blooms later with larger, more loosely arranged flowers than the species and forms a dense compact mound of green leaves before turning a brilliant yellow in autumn. 35cm	€9.00
A. hubrichtii The leaves of this Amsonia are more narrow and thread-like and the emerging foliage lacks conspicuous hairyness. An erect, clump-forming plant that is primarily grown in cultivation for its blue spring flowers, feathery green summer foliage and golden autumn colour. Powdery blue, star-like flowers appear in terminal clusters in late spring atop stems rising to 1m tall. Feathery, soft-textured, needle-like, alternate leaves are bright green in spring and summer, but turn bright gold in autumn. Won Perennial Plant of the year in USA 2011. 1m.	€9.00
A. orientalis The only European species. Blooms from late spring to mid-summer. Performs best in full sun and free draining soil. Flowers are a soft grey-blue in colour. 45cm	€8.00
A. tabernaemontana var. salicifolia Steel blue flowers held in loose drooping clusters in mid-summer and slim, tapering, willow-like leaves.	€8.00
A tab. 'Storm Cloud' Incredibly dark stems emerge from the ground, followed by olive green leaves which have slight silver veining. Star shaped periwinkle blue flowers appear early to late summer. 1m	€9.00

ANEMONE rupicola 'Wild Swan' The winner of the 2011 Chelsea New Plant of the Year, this plant was discovered by Elizabeth MacGregor on her nursery in Scotland. It is believed to be a cross between early and late flowering forms (possibly A. rupicola & A. hupehensis), and the result is a plant which flowers from May to November. Each pure white petal has a distinct grey-blue streak along the reverse, so when in bud, or when the flowers nod and half close (in the mornings and evenings) the flowers look bluish, but when they are fully open they are a dazzling pure white. Ideal for the woodland garden or partially shaded bed. 45cm	€9.00
A 'Dainty Swan' This has a beautiful pink back to the petals instead of the normal blue. Flowers from August to November. 60cm	€9.00
A. 'Ruffled Swan' Yet another from Elizabeth MacGregor. A more vigorous form and taller at 75cm. White semi double flowers with blue backs, they are about 9cm across. June to October. Sun or semi shade.	€9.00
A. nemerosa 'Hilda' Pure white, large flowers with petals so close together they look almost like a double. 25cm	€6.00
A. n 'Royal Blue' Large lavender blue flowers with a darker reverse. 15cm	€6.00
A.n. 'Blue Eyes' A rarely offered cultivar with fully double white flowers which have a very distinct blue eye. When young the plant can produce single flowers. Likes partial shade. 15cm.	€7.00
A. leveillei Beautiful white flowers over deeply serrated foliage. Prefers moist well drained soil in some shade. 60cm	€8.00
A. rivularis It is a summer flowering plant, which is dormant in the autumn. The white flowers, about 2.5cm across appearing in June are tinged with metallic blue with the most startling blue anthers, and up to 12 are held in a raceme on upstanding branched stems. It is hermaphrodite and self-fertile. It forms attractive seed heads and the leaves are dark green and deeply branched like other anemones. If happy it forms clumps, readily growing to 75cm.	€8.00
ANGELICA sylvestris Ebony A member of the Cow Parsley. It has sturdy stems with glossy, finely cut, virtually black foliage. Produces pale pink fluffy flowers that emerge from near purple buds.	€9.00

ASTRANTIA: Given what it likes Astrantia is one of the most reliable and useful of garden plants. They flower almost non-stop from late Spring to Autumn. Deadhead regularly for constant re-blooming.
A. 'Burgundy Manor' A lovely variety with ruby-red pin cushion like flowers fading to pink during the season. Moist but well drained soil in partial shade will give you the best colouration. Very attractive to pollinators. 75cm	€9.00
A. 'Gill Richardson' To our minds still the best of the dark red Astrantia on the market. It has the deepest crimson flowers from May to October, except for a very short rest during midsummer. The new leaves take on a dark purple tinge before turning green. 75cm	€9.00
A. Roma In our opinion the best pink form available. It looks spectacular in the large clump. A Piet Oudulf introduction and being sterile, it has a particularly long flowering season often from June right through to October. 70cm	€8.00
A. 'Ruby Star' This Astrantia is a seedling from A.'Ruby Wedding'. It has dark red flowers and flowers May and June and then reblooms	€8.00

CLEMATIS We continue to offer more and different varieties.
Pruning Group 1: These plants flower on growth produced the previous year and, if needed, are just given a light pruning to remove spent flowers immediately after flowering. Old, woody plants can be pruned very hard – down to a couple of feet if necessary, preferably to just above some strong healthy growth – after flowering – to remove lots of the old non flowering growth. Plants make take a year or so to fully recover and start flowering properly again. Very old plants may never recover!
Pruning Group 2: These cultivars can be cut back fairly hard to between 90cm to 1.2m high – to just above a fat pair of buds/single bud, the former is better. Start pruning at the top of the plant and work your way down. Pruning is carried out at the end of February/early March
Pruning Group 3: these can be cut back very hard – 23-45cm high, again just above a pair of buds/single bud – removing nearly all the previous years growth. Start pruning at the bottom of the plant. Pruning is carried out at the end of February/early March.
